

Floral Design Certificate Program Overview

The Floral Design Certificate program offers the most extensive course of study available in the region, covering all aspects of floral design. You will learn the art and science of floral design through hands-on design workshops to build your technical proficiency, gain knowledge in the principles and elements of design and color theory, and increase your range of design styles. You will become familiar with common flowers in the floral industry as well as how to design with locally grown seasonal and foraged materials. You will also build a strong foundation for enhancing your own creative inspiration. This program is designed for students who are interested in pursuing floral design for pleasure and self-satisfaction.

There is no formal enrollment in the program. Phipps maintains student records, but does not actively monitor student progress. Please track your own progress throughout the program and contact Phipps' adult education department for transcript confirmation when you have completed the required coursework. There is no time limit for completing the program.

Phipps is an AIFD education partner. Students interested in pursuing floral design as a career can use their Phipps certificate to pursue professional AIFD certification (see below for more information).

Certificate Requirements

To receive a certificate in Floral Design, students must satisfactorily complete 7 core courses, totaling 72 credit hours, and an additional 30 hours of electives, for a total of 102 hours. Satisfactory completion of a class is attendance based — students must attend at least 75% of a course's class periods to receive course credit. Full attendance is strongly encouraged. After you complete the certificate requirements, you must pass a final design assessment, which includes a portfolio review, written exam and a live design assessment performed by members of the Phipps floral instruction team.

AIFD Education Partnership

Phipps Conservatory is an education partner for the American Institute of Floral Designers (AIFD). AIFD is the floral industry's leading non-profit organization dedicated to establishing, maintaining and recognizing the highest standard of professional floral design.

Phipps floral program graduates may be considered for recommendation to test for their Certified Floral Designer (CFD) certification through AIFD, an internationally recognized floral industry credential.
